Aquarelle 1862

Artists quality moist watercolour

The 'Aquarelle 1862' watercolour was so named in honour of Dr Fr Schoenfeld who developed the recipe for moist watercolour in 1862. The artist's quality range uses exclusively pure, finely ground pigments of the highest permanence and concentration. The colour beautifully wets from the pan making it an ideal choice for sketching outdoors. The selection of sets is available in half or whole pans. Pans are easily replaced by either size once they have been used so if there's a half pan colour you like it can be replaced with a full pan next time. Each set has a flip out lid and palette for mixing colours and space to store 2 or 3 brushes.

The colours contained in each of the '1862' sets are listed by number, please refer to the Lukas colour chart on Page 26.
